The Reasons of its Supersority Over All Other Chill Semedies.

Wintersmith's Tonic Strap or Improved Offit Cure is not only an ante-periodic, but acts upon the liver also, so that in cases where persons are billions, as indicated by sallow complexions, loss of appetite, &c., generally followed by chills and fever, or in higher laitiedes or in more exposed situations by continued or intermitting fever, the use of this tonic for a few data will nitriely remove three symptoms, and show evidence of its efficies; by restoring the normal claims of the confiction, and in an increased appetite and a restored health action of the secretory or, and. This is really the great advantage that tonic possesses over the so-called tonice now in use, the best of which are but salf-periodics, and whits they may break the chill, they do not remove the abad or in a worse condition than when first tasked or the worse condition than when first tasked. cause of the disease, but leave the system in as bad or in a worse condition than when first taken. The use of this medicine is therefore indicated in cases where persons are exposed to minamitic influences, and is a varianable in warding off stacks of bilious and other fevers as in cirring chills and fevers. By the use of chiorise or carbolic sold in he sleeping chambers, and a proper use of Wintersmith's Toute Strup as indicated by the symptoms, a person has live and enjoy good health in the most maintrious districts.

Scientific investigation into the investigation of the sun's unface has been great this year, a great magnetic storm is predicted. An examination of the sun through new and powerful instruments has revealed new and wonderful appearances on its surface. Immense spots, millions of miles in extent, are said to have appeared. One of them recordly moved a hundred thousand miles in a second. We are told, too, that violeti physical civings are going on; that the magnetic storms are regulated by fixed laws and occur evary eleven years. The hert one is to be in 1870. Its effect upon magnetic instruments will be noted with intense interest by the first eleven years. The hext one is to be in 1870. Its effect upon magnetic instruments will be noted with intense interest by the first plant of the day. What effect those storms will have upon the atmosphere, regetation and the light of the sun, will afford plenty of food for speculation and thought.

The Law's Delay.

One of the most remarkable instances of this is the case which has just happened in France. A weary individual stuck is Kinfe in himself with a view of rolled from life, Hisservant coming in and seeing the knife sticking in his master rushed away. The master lay there, everyone declining to touch the knife until the proper authority, probably a coroner, could be summoned. When the legal functionary arrived it was too late, of course. The dread of interfering with a man who has stabled binnelf is great. Several instances are on record where men have been have been course. The dread of Interfering with a man who has stabbed binned? Is great. Several instances are on record where men have been in the act of drawing knives from men who had stabbed themselves and been strested and hung afterwards as murderers. In "Chambers' Miscellany" the reader will find some singular and thrilling instances of circumstantial cridence, where people were hung upon testimous that sevende conclusive, and yet were quite innocent.

The satelds Maple.

There seems to be a fresh impulse given to this species of crime. The variety of methods induged in show in many instances a deal of misapplied ingusuity. Nearly every dity of any size now in the country contributes a case nearly every day. It remained for the individual whose affair we chrouleled yesterday to give advice to gentlemen contemplating an excursion into another world as to the proper method. This is perfectly horrible in its callosances. Think of a man who takes the trouble of writing down the suggression that it is best to find out the vital part of the body before firing, and that some investigation that the matter hapite dramatic, and forms one of the most singular and startling evidences of the light store placed upon human life and the little effect the awful crime has upon the world at large.

IV.

Fahn, one of the Tyrolona Singers now giv-ing a series of concerts here, plays the bow zither with assonishing sweetness and skill— the combination of the piercing violin notes with the clear bell-like tones makes this in-strument walls of the piercing with the clear bell-like tones makes this inwith the clear bell-like tones makes this in-strament really charming, and no one can wonder that it is the delight of thousands of peasants in Switzerland, Bavaria and the Ty-rol. When their thy challets are half-covered with snow, and the hold, grand outlines of their mountains even age changed and modi-fied by capricious Dame Natura, one can ima-gine that groups of peasants might find light, warmth and the sweet plaintive tones of their favorite instrument all the more enticing from contrast—a pleasing accompaniment to the incessant wood-carying with which the favorite instrument all the more enticing from contrast—a: pleasing accompaniment to the incessant wood-carving with which the thrifty Gretchen and Carl occupy their long winter evenings, and a never-failing source of delight at all times. When the tender, lingering notes of some sad air greet one, it is quite impossible to realize that this same sither can dance and chirp like the most musical of crickets, and be quite as indispensable to Switzer hearths. chirp like the most musical of crickets, and be quite as indisponsable to Swisser hearths. What charmingly bright, spritual witnes it could have played for Titania's court! Its clear, twinking, little vaice would be drowned by the shuffling feet of ordinary mortals, but to fairles it would be what 8 Strams' orchestrals to other folks, perhaps even more inspiring. If fairles ever dance the "German," as it is to be hoped for their sakes they do, some especially accomplished sprite of a courtier should be appointed itiherist-in-chief to their invisible Majesties, the king and queen, if only to insure their prolonging their revels beyond "the witching hour of mid-night," and giving men at least one peep at the exclusive circles of the clifin world.

The New Albany Commercial.

Journalism in New Albany sustained a loss when the President went over there for a Kenticky Cecial. The New Albany Commercial has now to sustain apother loss. Mr. Luce, who has hithere owned the page, has soid the interest to Mr. H. M. Gifford, of New Albany. For three or four years Mr. Luce has made a vigorous fast for the life of the Commercial, and, it is said, has lost a good deal of money. New Albany, we suspect, is not a good point for a morning daily, whese extenses are necessarily greater than an afternoon paper. Mr. Luce does not break off his editorial connection with the Commercial abruptly. He will continue to with the Commercial abruptly. He will continue to write for
